Each year the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) and the American Institute of Steel Construction (AISC) sponsor a student steel bridge competition. This competition challenges students to use their knowledge to engineer a bridge that is lightweight and stiff, yet easy to construct.

The Missouri S&T Steel Bridge Team participates in this regional competition every year. In the 23 years of competing the Steel Bridge Team has engineered their way further to a National level of competition 12 times. We believe the secret of success lies in our dedication to doing the entire project ourselves, from design through construction, serving a vital role in our overall education as future engineers.

As students we would like you to join our team. This year's need is approximately $17,000. This will cover costs such as materials, tooling, and travel expenses. Our Regional competition will take place at Southern Illinois University Edwardsville and Nationally at University of Washington in Seattle, Washington. We would like to extend an invitation to you to become a supporting member.

If you have any questions you may call the Project Manager Sarah Padgett at (785) 806-8244 or email sbridge@mail.mst.edu.
