

Particle $F=ma$ (Straight Line): Example Problem 2

Hold a string from which hangs a weight. Accelerate it up and down. What tension do you feel? Can you feel a larger tension when accelerating up? Can you feel less string tension when accelerating downward? If you try to achieve a large enough downward acceleration, the string tension goes to zero.

