

Aldo Nosedo (Sept, 2009)

Vice President – Enterprise Applications

Aldo Nosedo is Vice President of Enterprise Applications at Monsanto Company. He has been in this role since 2008 and is responsible for all Global systems including Monsanto's ERP platform, Web solutions and Business Intelligence capabilities.

Previously, Mr. Nosedo led the IT organization for Monsanto's new global Vegetable Division after the acquisition of Seminis Seeds in 2005.

Mr. Nosedo joined Monsanto Company in 1991 and worked in multiple roles for IT and the Business in Latin America and the US.

Mr. Nosedo has a post-graduate in Information Systems Engineering with an executive program in Business Administration.